

Sage DacEasy News

RKS will continue to support Sage DacEasy!

End of Sage DacEasy??

Over the past year there has been rumors and announcements about DacEasy ending and users should move to Sage 50. Some users have moved to Sage 50 and others have switched to another accounting system.

Another Option: RKS suggests that another option is to stay with DacEasy, upgrade to the current version and you will be able to use your current accounting system into the future.

We (the DacEasy Certified Consultants) still do not know what is going to happen to DacEasy down the line. But almost all of us do not want to abandon our loyal DacEasy clients. So we are advising our clients to "wait and see".

As of now, Sage is promising to provide support for the existing Business Care Plans. If you have Payroll, that will include the tax updates. They are also allowing their Certified Consultants to continue selling the Business Plans. Until they end the Business Plans, we plan to continue selling and supporting Sage DacEasy as usual.

Sage also is saying they are not going to force users to change to a different accounting program.

RKS Sage DacEasy Policy

RKS Business Services will continue to try to support all clients, regardless of what version they are on. However it will become increasingly difficult to help clients who are using earlier versions of DacEasy.

Obviously the later versions will be easier to support on the newer Windows operating systems, so we are recommending you upgrade to the current version.

RKS plans to continue to sell and support Sage DacEasy as long as we are able.

Reasons to Upgrade Now

If you haven't upgraded yet, now is probably the time to do it.

1. The current version is 2014/15 and in the old numbering method, it is Version 22. Gives you an idea how old your software is.
2. When your present computer dies, your older version will probably not install on the Windows 7, 8, 8.1 and 10 operating systems. Upgrading your computer and software while your old computer is still working makes the upgrade easier.
3. Available in Accounting Edition, Payroll Edition, Small Business Edition (Accounting and Payroll), Retail Edition (Accounting and Point of Sale) and Complete Edition (all 5 modules).
4. Prices are great, they are at an all time low. Buy a year subscription plan and get the latest software at no extra cost.
5. The new features Sage has added over the years will give you all of the benefits that users have found helpful in running their businesses efficiently.
6. You can upgrade from single user to the multi-user version or add additional modules to your system for a reasonable cost.
7. Upgrading to the current version now will enable you to continue to use DacEasy into the future. Changing to another accounting software program should not be made under the pressure of necessity.
